Observations...

By the Editor

At the conclusion of the Commencement Exercises at St. Stanislaus Sunday morning, more than 140 boys and girls will have completed their high school education in the schools of Bay St. Louis. There was a time when graduation exercises were happy moments in the lives of our young people and those of their parents; but in these days of troubled times there are no longer those joyous moments, they are superseded by moments of anxiety and fear of what the future holds for our youth. It has become a sad and dreary plan for the further education of our boys and girls. Their lives are fast becoming as regimented as the lives of those behind the iron curtain countries. Out of high school and into service, to fight on the battlefields of the world, pulling the chestnuts from the fire, for a group of countries who are strictly reliant upon us for their very existence and who do not give a whooper's damn for us or our future generations. May we live to see the day when our international course shall change, and we may again live the real American Way of Life, in Peace and Harmony with our fellow men, both at home and abroad.

An emergency blood operation program for military use only will be held at Bay High Gym from 12 noon to 6 p.m. Thursday, May 31. The mobile blood bank which will come to Bay St. Louis at that time, is anxious to secure 300 pints of blood for the boys in Korea. To accomplish this, it will be necessary to have 300 donors. Will you be one of them? Any one from 18 to 60 years can donate to this worthy cause. It may mean the life of one of our boys will be saved with your blood. You will never know, but how much satisfaction you will receive in knowing that you are doing your part to help them. So if you are physically able, do your utmost to be on hand May 31 and give a pint of blood for one of the most worthy causes we know.

We have noted from a news release where "Strutting Sid" Roebuck, erstwhile chairman of the Mississippi Highway Commission, has withdrawn from the race in his district, and will not offer for re-election. We, on the Mississippi Gulf Coast, should feel happy over this announcement; perhaps his successor will at least feel that the Coast is still a part of Mississippi; and in the future we might be able to expect the department to at least recognize this fact and contribute a part of the funds necessary for the building of Mississippi's most traveled road, highway 90. We understood for a while the governor's bee was stinging Sidney pretty bad, but apparently he concluded that that course would lead strictly to political oblivion. The people in this section should never forget Mr. Roebuck for the many favors to this section, in fact plans should be made at this time to invite him to be the principal speaker at the dedication ceremonies of the "Monument to political indifference" which will be built across the Bay of St. Louis, connecting Hancock and Harrison Counties, and for payment of which we will be saddled with a toll for many, many years, while every other section of the State enjoys toll-free bridges.

The Mayor and Commission council of the City of Bay St. Louis are asking for bids for the drilling of an eight inch well to add to our water system. This is a much needed project; and we understand a survey also is in the making for the purpose of ascertaining the exact needs of our water system. The improvement of our water system, which would place us in a lower insurance classification would certainly redound to the benefit of the property owners of Bay St. Louis. It is possible to have our insurance rates cut in half. The savings in insurance premiums would probably be as much as our taxes. Do you think it is worthwhile to have a better water system?

Luke A. Chiniche Killed Thursday

Private Luke A. Chiniche, son of Mrs. Marshall Chiniche of Bay St. Louis, was killed in an accident at Fort Bragg, North Carolina, where he was stationed, Thursday morning, May 24. According to reports, he was said to have been under a truck repairing it when the vehicle fell on him. At this writing further details are not known.

John D. Smith Seeks Re-Election

We are authorized to announce the candidacy of John D. Smith for State Highway Commissioner of the Southern District, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary Election to be held August 7, 1951.

To The People of the Southern District:

In making my announcement for re-election to the office of State Highway Commissioner, I am mindful of the many duties and responsibilities of the office. There is no other office in the State that so closely touches the welfare of all the people as does that of Highway Commissioner. Highway construction and maintenance of roads and bridges affect the social, economic and educational welfare of all our people. For the opportunity of serving you in this important capacity, I am deeply grateful. I have enjoyed working for you and with you.

The State Highway Department is composed of many competent workers and they are doing a fine job for our state. It has been necessary for me to make an extensive study of the personnel of this organization and their duties. The knowledge I have gained from his study will enable me to do a better job during a second term, I shall continue this study in an effort to improve our methods and services to the people.

I know that many of our employees at this time are entitled to receive higher salaries for their labors. However, this will be corrected.

"Civil defense is here to stay for the rest of your lives and your children's lives unless the world ceases to be a world," E. V. Benjamin, Deputy Director, New Orleans Civil Defense in charge of administration, said here Wednesday in his address to the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club.

"Whether you choose to believe it or not," he added "Russia has the Atomic Bomb and she is going to use it. We don't know when the attack will be made or where it will fall, but Russia will attack on mass. There will be only one attack."

The speaker listed the coast towns as the strategic points for evacuation. "It is your work to be prepared for war—by attack—but it's the Civil Defense's work to take care of the civil population," he continued.

"It seems a challenge to me to stand here and tell people as solid as you what they are facing," Mr. Benjamin concluded.

Mr. Benjamin was the guest of Hardin Shattuck.

Rehearsals Start For Silver Whistle

The Bay St. Louis Little Theatre is abuzz again with activity in preparation for the forthcoming production, "The Silver Whistle," which will be presented during the last week of June.

The play is a mirth-provoking comedy dealing with the inmates of an old-age home. A stranger, posing as an old man, finds his way into the circle and the series of complications which follow are hilarious, Mrs. J. William Hill Jr., director said.

Some veteran players with the theatre have enlisted to take a part in this delightful comedy. Mrs. Ernest Samuel will have a part which calls for versatility. Others are George Fletcher and Roland Weston in addition to Mrs. Jules Schroth who will make her initial bow in the theatre, as well as Mrs. May Tudury. Mrs. Christel Schaefer who made her debut in a first play of the season, will do the role of the home superintendent.

Mrs. Odette Wittesberger is working on plans for the costumes, while the services of Miss Ninette Dart have been obtained for the artistic setting. Miss Jane Blair is assisting the director.

Howard F. Simmons, County Agricultural Agent of Hancock County has been granted sabbatic leave for a year beginning July 1, to attend Colorado A. & M. College at Fort Collins to complete his Masters Degree in Agriculture.

Mr. Simmons came to Hancock County in February, 1948, from Forrest County where he had served in the capacity of Assistant County Agent for five years.

Sabbatic leave is granted by the Federal Extension Service after an employee has been working for seven years. At the completion of this year's absence he will return to Hancock County to resume his duties as County Agricultural Agent. In the meantime the Simmons will still make their home here; Mrs. Simmons will continue teaching in the City Schools of Bay St. Louis.

M. Oliver To Make Constable's Race

We are authorized to announce the candidacy of Mark Oliver for the office of Constable, Beat Five, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary Election to be held August 7, 1951.

To The Qualified Voters of Hancock County, Beat Five:

I take this means of announcing my candidacy for the office of Constable of Beat Five.

I am a native of Bay St. Louis and was reared and have lived in this community all of my life.

I served as Chief of Police of Bay St. Louis, for a period of Seven years rendering satisfactory service in that capacity. I served as Deputy Sheriff of Hancock County for a period of Four Years and rendered satisfactory service in that capacity. Later I was elected to the office of Constable of Beat Five and served satisfactorily in that office until a certain trial, of which the public is well aware, terminated my term of office. I did not plead guilty in that case and I do not admit that I was guilty of anything which I should be ashamed of. I am a veteran of World War I, and I believe that I should be entitled to another chance to show the public that I am a good citizen and intend to do the right thing.

During World War II, I worked for Higgins for three years and did my best as a War Worker.

In conclusion I wish to ask the voters of Beat Five to consider my candidacy; and if they believe that I would render them good service as Constable of Beat Five, I earnestly solicit their influence and support.

Respectfully submitted,
MARK OLIVER.

Smith To Judge Flower Show

Henry Smith, horticulturist from Mississippi State College, will be judge for the flower and vegetable show of the Home Demonstration Club of Hancock County, to be given at the R. E. A. building Thursday, May 31, at 10:00 a.m.

Members are asked to have their arrangements in before 10:00 a.m. Thursday, May 31, Mrs. J. P. Rousseau, president of the Home Demonstration Council, stated.

We are authorized to announce the candidacy of Edward I. Jones for the office of Clerk of Courts of Hancock County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary Election to be held August 7, 1951.

To The Voters of Hancock County:

In offering myself as a candidate for the office of Clerk of Courts of Hancock County I believe it pertinent to give the voters some of the facts of my past history.

I attended St. Stanislaus school until I graduated in 1925; I secured employment in a law office and read law and took a law correspondence course. At the age of twenty-one years, I passed the Mississippi Bar Examination.

In 1935, the only time I asked for a county office, I ran for the office of County Prosecuting Attorney and was given a splendid vote in both the first and second primaries.

In 1942 I volunteered into the U. S. Navy and was sent overseas and served my country until the war was over and was Honorably discharged in 1945. While in the Navy I was admitted to practice law in the Federal Courts of the Territory of Hawaii, and worked for the Navy handling land records in the Courthouse of Hawaii. During the years of 1946 and 1947 I was active between Washington, D. C. and Bay St. Louis, in behalf of veterans and was instrumental in having the G. I. Bill of Rights broadened and in having terminal leave pay granted to enlisted men.

I served as Veterans Service Officer for Hancock County from April 1st, 1950 until March 1st, 1951.

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors have leased a strip of land north of the Chapman property on Washington Road from Henry Chapman and his wife, Juanita Chapman, to be used as an airport for small planes.

The lease carries the privilege of purchasing this strip if the county wants to buy. The purpose of this is to give all small planes a place of landing if they so desire when making flight through this section.

I would like to keep this race on a high plane and intend doing that. However, since the present Clerk says that he stands on his record, I am accepting the challenge because I believe his record is poor and that I can render better service to the public in the Clerk's office than the present incumbent and as good as any Clerk.

I promise that if I am elected to the office of Clerk of Courts that,

1. As the Clerk I will accept as Registrar of Voters no more than a reasonable amount, in comparison to the average paid to other Clerks in Mississippi in counties in the class or population of Hancock County.

2. The Clerk's office will be open on Wednesday afternoons.

3. The Clerk's office will extend to all persons equal rights and privileges.

4. The Clerk's office will be staffed with competent deputies in all departments and all public records will be open to the public at all times during legal hours.

5. The Clerk's office will not interfere with the Board of Supervisors in the exercise of their duties and responsibilities.

6. The Clerk's office will put and maintain all records in proper shape.

7. The Clerk's office will cooperate with and assist over and above the call of duty all organizations or persons striving to make this county prosperous and a better place to live.

8. The Clerk's office will do all in its power to foster patriotism and respect to our Flag and what it stands for.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wise were seriously injured in an accident Monday morning when a car, driven by Herman D. Brown, struck the Wise car, officials stated.

The accident occurred at 7:45 a.m. about one-half mile from the intersection of highways 90 and 11. The Wises were en route to New Orleans from Bay St. Louis, and the Brown car was coming in the opposite direction.

Mr. Wise suffered a skull fracture and concussion, body injuries and possibly internal injuries. Mrs. Wise has a fractured left leg, a fractured skull and two broken ribs.

Brown, who was alone in the car, was taken to the Charity Hospital, New Orleans in an unconscious condition. He suffered a possible fracture of the right arm, possible head injuries, a lacerated lip and abrasions. It was said that he was trapped in his car before members of the police crash truck were able to extricate him. He was given first aid before removing him to the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Wise are in the Southern Baptist Hospital, New Orleans.

Mr. Wise operates the Wise Cafeteria at 233 Carondelet street, New Orleans; he and Mrs. Wise were returning to New Orleans after having spent the weekend at their summer home here.

The police reported that the only witnesses to the accident were the occupants of the two cars, and they were in no condition to give clear statements as to how the accident occurred.

COUNTY LEASES AN AIR STRIP

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors have leased a strip of land north of the Chapman property on Washington Road from Henry Chapman and his wife, Juanita Chapman, to be used as an airport for small planes.

The lease carries the privilege of purchasing this strip if the county wants to buy. The purpose of this is to give all small planes a place of landing if they so desire when making flight through this section.

SYLVEST MORAN TO MAKE RACE FOR SHERIFF & TAX COLLECTOR

We are authorized to announce the candidacy of Sylvest Moran for Sheriff and Tax Collector of Hancock County subject to the action of the Democratic Primary Election to be held August 7, 1951.

To The Voters of Hancock County:

I take this as a means of announcing my candidacy for the office of Sheriff and Tax Collector of Hancock County.

I am now serving as chief Deputy under the present administration, and feel that I have rendered a good service. I am positive that I can give you better service the next four years because of my experience, if elected to that office.

I promise that if I am elected to the office of Clerk of Courts that,

1. As the Clerk I will accept as Registrar of Voters no more than a reasonable amount, in comparison to the average paid to other Clerks in Mississippi in counties in the class or population of Hancock County.

2. The Clerk's office will be open on Wednesday afternoons.

3. The Clerk's office will extend to all persons equal rights and privileges.

An emergency blood operation, for military use only, will take place in Hancock County, Thursday, May 3, at Bay High gymnasium from 12 noon to 6:00 p.m. Mrs. Lucien Gex, chairman of the blood program of the Hancock County Chapter of the American Red Cross, announced today.

The Red Cross, to date, has not been able to furnish enough blood for the Armed Forces; therefore, is necessary that they come into other communities to secure it.

TO SECURE 300 PINTS When the Mobile Blood Bank comes to Bay St. Louis Thursday, they will try to secure 300 pints of blood for the boys fighting in Korea; it will be necessary to secure 300 donors, white and colored to fill the quota, Mrs. Gex added.

Anyone wishing to donate blood should call the Red Cross office or Mrs. Gex for appointment. The chairman is setting up a recruiting system to contact business houses in the county. Anyone who is not contacted and would like to give blood is asked to call 67 or 259 as soon as possible. Anyone from 18 to 60 years of age can donate to the cause; if a donor is under 21, he must have a signed statement granting permission from the parents. This need not be the case if the applicant is a member of the Armed Forces or married.

EMPLOYERS are urged to give their employees time off to donate blood; and, if kept according to schedule, Mrs. Gex said, they will return to work in an hour.

Cards will be sent to donors stating their type blood and whether they have a negative or positive RH factor. These cards are always good to have in case of accidents or serious illness where blood type is necessary.

At a meeting of the American Red Cross Executive Board of the Hancock County Chapter held Tuesday, May 22, at the Court House, Clayton L. Perreault, Special Field Representative for American Red Cross National Blood Program, of Mobile, Alabama, told of the urgency of carrying this program through.

Those attending were Dr. C. M. Shipp, Mrs. E. M. Weston, Dr. M. J. Wolfe, Dr. Thomas A. Quigley, and Mesdames T. T. Robin, Leo W. Seal, Lucien Gex, J. B. Goldman and L. S. Elliott.

It was my childhood ambition to secure an education but I was unable to afford higher education. In 1915 I asked the people of Hancock County to elect me to the office of County Treasurer. As a very young man, I was elected and my administration was successful. I then attended St. Stanislaus College, where I received my business training.

Since that time I was employed by the Edward Hines Lumber Co., Kiln and Lumberton, Mississippi, where I served as bookkeeper, paymaster, and timekeeper. After the Kiln sawmill closed, I was employed by the McLeod Turpentine Co., of Kiln, as bookkeeper and store manager. During the war I operated a dairy and farm, and I was in the logging business at the time that I accepted the position.

I want to make it plain to every voter of Hancock County that if I am elected I will always be aware of my duties as a public servant; and that I will not be connected to or influenced by any profiteering organization or individual, which would be detrimental to the county or any community within the county. If elected, I shall always bear in mind the duties and responsibilities of that office and make a sincere effort to uphold the laws of this state and County.

Respectfully submitted,
SYLVEST MORAN

Reproach Beyond Acceptance

Sometime this year, probably in December, the 1,000,000th traffic death will occur in the United States—Unless there is mass determination to postpone that fateful date. It is shocking to realize that since the turn of the century, since the first automobile chugged and hissed to the derision and excitement of a horsedrawn era, the lives of almost 1,000,000 men, women and children have been squandered in one of the most senseless and tragic wastes of modern times.

But even more shocking than the toll is the inescapable fact that few Americans feel any real personal concern. As their fellows perish about them, they look on with a detachment and complacency that is difficult to understand and even more difficult to alter.

There rests the keystone of the entire traffic safety structure—personal concern. The duty of every responsible citizen is to strive for traffic safety as a voter, as a volunteer worker in whatever capacity his interests and abilities direct, and as a driver and pedestrian. Even the relatively small percentage of accidents caused by mechanical failure of motor vehicles could be reduced if owners would make sure their cars are in safe condition.

Two years ago the well-loved Margaret Mitchell was struck down on a street in Atlanta by a driver who, while personally culpable, was only the product of his city's apathy. The blood of Margaret Mitchell was on the hands of everyone whose indifference set the stage for the tragedy. Shocked into action, Atlanta today is making impressive strides in accident prevention.

But what will it take to spur the nation into action? Will 1,000,000 deaths—the day of seven figures reckoning—do it? If so, the dead will endure to some purpose and memorialize a new hope.

One million deaths, then, can be more than a morbid milestone on a road without ending. It is a place to examine the failures of the past and to plan for the future.

For more than a decade the proven technique of traffic accident prevention have been available for application by any city or state. What has been the result?

While most states have a statute requiring examination for a driver's license, only a few administer the law strictly enough to give it meaning. Thousands of drivers lack the skills, physical faculties and mental attitudes for safe driving. Re-examination of older drivers or those who have been involved in accidents or violations is virtually nonexistent.

Enforcement of traffic laws always will be necessary to curb the irresponsible minority. Yet in most cities far less than the minimum standard of 25 per cent of the police power is devoted to traffic.

The finger of accusation has been pointed repeatedly at the teen-age driver. Yet only a third of our eligible students are receiving driver education, and far less than that number are offered behind-the-wheel instruction.

Only 13 states permit tests of blood alcohol to be used in court against the most reprehensible motoring miscreant—the drinking driver. Yet scientific tests are the only sure measurement of intoxication.

Engineering and road building have fallen far behind the demands of the motor age. Lack of funds is the common excuse, yet billions of dollars in gasoline taxes have been diverted into channels of political expediency.

Automatic revocation of a driver's license for serious misconduct is invoked all too seldom. Jail sentences are few. The system of fines and penalties throughout the nation is a hodgepodge of improvisation, the temper of the court, and the stature and legal counsel of defendant.

Officials can act effectively and decisively only within the limits of public support groups of influential citizens who can arouse the interest and crystallize the opinion of the community. And many of those that do exist are merely letterhead donations to the public good.

These are but a few of the more obvious holes in the dike of traffic safety. They can be plugged, but only through the aroused interest and insistent support of people who care.

At best, several months remain before the 1,000,000th victim is counted. At best, that somber date can be pushed well into 1952—if 1,000,000 ghosts are a reproach beyond acceptance. Are we going to do something about it?—Ned H. Dearborn, President of the National Safety Council.

LETTERS

TO THE EDITOR:

It is very generous of you to accord me the privilege of printing a letter on a subject that is of interest to us all.

The medical men in the army tell us that they are in need of whole blood to save the lives of our wounded on the field of battle. This appeal is urgent and is a must on the part of those that can give.

I was one of a panel of doctors that sent 300 men of our National Guard to Korea. These men are today battling for us in that land. I don't like to think that my obligation was finished when we made their X-rays, took their blood and gave them shots to protect them from the many diseases over there.

I want to feel certain that every care is given to any man in that outfit wounded and in need of medical attention.

We look with pride on the very low death rate in our wounded. The death rate here has never been equaled in the annals of military medicine. The reason for this is that our medical service is of the highest quality. The one thing that has contributed to this marvelous record is plenty of blood furnished by us here at home to replace that lost in hemorrhage from battle wounds. This blood is not back in the base hospitals, it is on the front line where the doctors and corpsmen can use it in the emergency.

The reason that all the hospitals in China are choked and running over with the dead and dying is because they have no modern medical equipment. No blood available to save lives.

We want no guess work in this matter, we want to know absolutely that your boy and the man that we have learned to love and respect have every chance to get well when the tragedy comes, whether they are on the front line or in a base hospital.

A fully equipped unit, consisting of doctors and nurses and other necessary furnishings, will be in By High School Gymnasium on Thursday, May 31st, 12:00 to 6:00 p. m., to take whole blood from all volunteers. We will take blood from both white and colored between the ages of 18 and 59. I understand that some of our people would rather give blood than money, either way this is your chance.

Kindly talk this over with the people you meet on the street and help us to make our contribution a success.

READ THIS TO YOUR CHILDREN

The following "Lesson in Socialism" needs no comment. It was written by Thomas J. Shelly, teacher of Economics and History at Yonkers High School, Yonkers, N. Y. It is suggested you read it yourself, and then let your children read it.

A LESSON IN SOCIALISM

"A. a. a. a. in the public schools, I find that the socialist—Communist idea of taking 'from each according to his ability', and giving 'to each according to his need' is now generally accepted without question by most of our pupils. In an effort to explain the fallacy in this theory, I sometimes try this approach with my pupils:

"When one of the brighter or harder-working pupils make a grade of 95 on a test, I suggest that I take away 20 points and give them to a student who has made only 55 points on his test. Thus each would contribute according to his ability and—since both would have a passing mark—each would receive according to his need. After I have juggled the grades of all the other pupils in this fashion, the result is usually a 'common ownership' grade of between 75 and 80—the minimum needed for passing, or for survival. Then I speculate with the pupils as to the probable results if the socialist theory for grading papers.

"First, the highly productive—the 'a. a. a. a.'—a minority in school as well as in life—would soon lose all incentive for producing. Why strive to make a high grade if part of it is taken from you by 'authority' and given to some one else?

"Second, the less productive pupils—a majority in school as elsewhere—would, for a time, be relieved of the necessity to study or to produce. This socialist-communist system would continue until the high producers had sunk or had been driven down—to the level of the low producers. At that point, in order for anyone to survive, the 'authority' would have no alternative but to begin a system of compulsory labor and punishments against even the low producers. They, of course, would then complain bitterly, but without understanding.

"Finally I return the discussion to the ideas of freedom and enterprise—the market economy—where each person has freedom of choice, and is responsible for his own decisions and welfare.

"Gratifying enough, most of my pupils then understand what I mean when I explain that socialism—even in a democracy—will eventually result in a living death for all except the 'authorities' and a few of their favorite lackeys."

SMITH

rected as soon as we come into a new fiscal year and are permitted to do so by law. I favor the same type of salary payments and benefits for State government employees as are received by those who work for private industry and business.

We are now engaged in launching the "Pay As You Go" road program. The "Farm to Market" program has now passed from the dream stage to one of fulfillment. The progress in our road program goes to the heart of both our rural and industrial sections. As I told you in my campaign four years ago, I want to see these roads built and maintained. I have devoted my entire time to constructing and maintaining every mile of road possible with our limited funds.

As each project is completed we are ready to turn to another. We have learned that all-weather, hard-surfaced roads are a vital part of our economic system and should be made available to every community as rapidly as possible. I cherish the opportunity to serve you a full term under this program. The experience I have gained these past four years as your Commissioner will enable me to render a much higher type of service during the next term.

The Highway Department is one of the most important departments of state government. It is charged with the expenditure of millions of dollars annually. In the discharge of this responsibility, I have always kept the welfare of the people at heart, ever striving to get a dollar value for each dollar spent.

As Mississippians we are justly proud of our fine highways. This fact becomes more impressive as we travel in our neighboring states. We will continue our efforts to improve and enlarge our fine system of hard-surfaced roads as well as properly maintain our present roads. To that task I dedicate my time, my talent and my ability.

My qualifications, which enable me to efficiently serve in this important capacity, are based upon eight years experience as Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of Simpson County, 3 years experience building and maintaining roads and bridges for the U. S. Government, and four years experience as your State Highway Commissioner.

With a sincere desire to be of further service to my State, I submit my candidacy for re-election as your State Highway Commissioner of the Southern Highway District.

Faithfully yours,
JOHN D. SMITH

In conclusion I want to respectfully request your consideration of my candidacy for the office of Clerk of Courts of Hancock County, and if you believe that I can serve you and your interests in the office of Clerk of Courts, I earnestly solicit your vote and influence.

Respectfully submitted,
EDWARD I. JONES

Experienced --- Capable --- Progressive

The condition of the Roads and Bridges of the County are the responsibility of the Board of Supervisors. It is considered so, to such an extent, that the major allowances in salary to members of the Board is paid for inspection of roads and bridges. The law intended that the Supervisor should give his time and attention to the upkeep and maintenance of the roads and bridges in his respective beat.

In Beat 5 there are approximately 25 miles of dirt or unsurfaced roads, (exclusive of roads in subdivisions which have not been declared public roads.) The income for road maintenance allocated to Beat 5 for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1950 amounted to $25,633.00, and the expenditures for upkeep and maintenance for the same period amounted to $29,802.90, an excess expenditure for the year of $4,169.90. We have had no improvement of the road system in beat 5 for the past several years, and in fact we are still travelling the narrow dirt roads of by-gone days in many instances.

Of course as election day draws near, efforts are being made to convince the people that we will have our roads surfaced. In fact county equipment and employees are presently working on some of the roads and we are being told that a paving program is in the making. Let us analyze the situation. How is any surfacing going to be done? There is only $6559.63 balance to the credit of the Road and Bridge Fund in Beat 5... How much surfacing will that amount pay for and carry the maintenance charges? The maintenance expense for the month of April 1951, amounted to $2,591.80. If this is any criterion there will not be a sufficient amount of money in this fund to pay the maintenance charges to the end of the fiscal year.

And why should the question of surfacing the roads wait until two months before election? We know and everyone else should know that these roads cannot be surfaced at this time, and certainly not before election day. Then what...

The care of our roads should be placed on a sound basis, and I propose, if elected your Supervisor to use the major portion of the funds allocated to this beat for road purposes for the rebuilding and surfacing of the roads. If we should be so fortunate as to receive $25,000.00 per year, and again receive from the state the same amount of funds in the next four years as we have in the past, there should be a total of approximately $120,000.00 available for the four year period, and with this amount available we should be able to rebuild and surface practically every mile of road within the beat.

I also propose to build a road connecting Clermont Harbor with Highway 90 in order to give to the residents of this growing village a direct route to the Highway. I also propose to complete and open for travel the road from Clermont Harbor to Lakeshore, parallel with the railroad.

I earnestly solicit your support and influence and I assure you, if elected your Supervisor, that I will render you a progressive, competent and faithful administration, ever endeavoring to carry my program to a definite conclusion.

Alcoholic Anonymous To Meet Here

The Alcoholic Anonymous Mississippi State convention will be held in Pass Christian on June 1, 2 and 3, with Camp Kittiwake as convention headquarters.

There will be guest speakers from New York, and the original founder of A. A. will also be present at the convention.

The kick-off of the convention will be Friday night, June 1, at eight o'clock, at Kittiwake. Registrations have been received for the Mississippi State convention from eight other states besides Mississippi, and there is to be an expected attendance of from seven hundred to one thousand.

The public will be invited to an open meeting Sunday afternoon, June 3rd, at three o'clock at the Gulfport High School.

The non-Alcoholics Anonymous will have a special program on Sunday morning at Kittiwake from 9:00 until ten for the wives and husbands of alcoholics. Speakers will be present from Tunica, Laurel, Tupelo, Indiana, and Jackson. The program subject is "The Better Way of Life the N. A. A. Way."

A barbecue for the A. A. and their guests will be held at Kittiwake Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Alcoholics Anonymous is an organization that is neither for or against any movement; but a group of recovered alcoholics whose sole aim is to help the alcoholic regain his standing in the community and his health, etc.

One of the purposes of the public meeting in Gulfport is to inform the public about one of the greatest community health problems as alcoholism is the fourth greatest disease killer in the United States.

The organization does not have governing officers. It is international in its scope.

There are at present one hundred and twenty thousand recovered alcoholics, both men and women. The slogan of the A. A. is "If you want to drink that's your business; if you want to quit it's ours." Distance and time mean nothing to the working A. A. as when a person wants help but the organization will not take a step to interfere if a person does not want and ask for their help.

The local hotels and tourist courts, who have been most cooperative in making reservations for the convention visitors, will be filled to capacity.

OPS NEWS

Retail meat workers are required to post by June 4, the new ceiling prices for beef cuts that were effective May 4. W. Aaron Byrd, District Director, Office of Price Stabilization, announced today.

Mr. Byrd stated that these beef prices will be effective until July 31. On that date, he said, OPS will put into effect the first of two ceiling price reductions. The next ceiling price reduction will take place October 1.

The OPS regulation controlling beef prices is part of a group of regulations that reduce the prices that slaughterers can pay for beef cattle and that wholesalers may charge retail meat markets.

The Office of Price Stabilization has issued an order setting ceiling prices for many manufactured products at a pre-Korean base, plus actual increases in factory payroll costs through March 14, 1951. It was announced today by District OPS officials. Manufacturers are required to report their ceiling prices before May 28 to the Office of Price Stabilization in Washington, D. C.

Manufacturers with gross sales of less than $250,000 annually, have a choice of remaining under the General Ceiling Price Regulation or reporting under the new manufacturers regulation (CPR 22). OPS officials said.

There are approximately 1400 manufacturing establishments in Mississippi covered by this price regulation.

The OPS has amended its restaurant ceiling price regulation to give certain short-term operators a longer base period for figuring food cost ratios. District officials announced today.

The restaurant regulation establishes food prices based on sales during the calendar year 1949 or the period from July 1, 1949, to June 30, 1950.

The new amendment affects restaurant operators in business less than four months during their base periods.

Restaurants in operation less than the full four month period before July 1, 1950, OPS officials explained, may use their first four months of operations even though this period extends beyond the July 1 date.

The amendment makes it clear, it was pointed out, that restaurants operating more than four months before July 1, 1950, must use the whole time interval as their base period.

The regulation is also amended for restaurant operators who went into business after July 1, 1950, but before April 1, 1951. Those operating more than four months adopt their entire operating period as their cost ratio base. Those operating less than four months may employ this method but optionally may use the current prices of the nearest comparable restaurant during the months of April, May, June and July 1951.

Business people in Mississippi needing copies of OPS ceiling price regulation should contact the District Office, 405½ West Capitol Street, telephone number 2-5551, Jackson, Mississippi.

SUBSTITUTION REQUIRED

Each year electricity has been used to do more and more of the chores on the farms of America. Rural people used five kilowatts in 1950 for every four they used in 1949.

Farmers will rely even more on electricity during the emergency. According to one survey, five out of every six farmers are already concerned about the shortage of manpower. All over the country young people are going into the armed forces and defense plants.

At the same time the American farmer is being called upon to feed more of his fellow Americans and millions of people in other nations. He HAS to find a substitute for muscles.

As a locally-owned, locally-controlled business we are obligated to do everything we can to help the farmers in this area make the most effective use of heat, light and power to replace their manpower losses. We resolve to fulfill that obligation.

The Cow That Can't "Run Dry"

Sandy Johnson showed me his Jersey cows last week. It was a warm day and they were all under the trees for a watering trough.

And darned if one cow wasn't pumping water into the trough! It's a fact—she'd raise the pump handle with her nose and use her throat to push it down again.

"That's Mabel," Sandy explained as she moved away. "Sometimes they drink that trough dry and she's learned how to fill it again. But she doesn't know her own strength—turns the place into a swamp if we don't watch her."

WOOD IN PEACE... as in war

WOOD really needs no introduction to America.

It has built most of America's millions of homes, has given us paper and innumerable other products.

Perhaps you won't recognize wood after this war is over. So many new uses are being developed that it has become known as our most versatile raw material.

The most important fact about wood is that it is a renewable natural resource. We may run out of minerals, but trees grow.

Forest industry operators, custodians of our commercial trees, recognize this fact. Harnessing growth, they are using wood today, and producing more wood for the future. A forest isn't a mine, that can only be depleted. It is a farm that can produce forever.

When the Nation hurries, it hurries by telephone. And today speed is the battle cry, as America builds its defenses. Whether it's tanks or planes, bombs or bazookas, Long Distance serves on every production job. Getting orders and giving them. Rushing raw materials here—speeding workers there. Saving precious minutes and cutting red tape.

The Bell System is better equipped to handle today's rush job because it speeded its own building program. In 1941, for instance, there were about 4,800,000 miles of Long Distance circuits. Today there are nearly 20,800,000 and more will be needed.

When America's capacity to produce depends so much on good communications, it's a good thing this nationwide telephone system has expanded so rapidly. And it is essential that it keep right on growing.

To help speed your Long Distance call...

please give the operator the out-of-town telephone number. Telephone lines are busy with national defense.

MACARTHUR VERSUS MARSHALL

The debate on Capitol Hill over the summary dismissal of General MacArthur, although lacking in the spectacular color that attended MacArthur's dramatic speech before the Congress and his later testimony before the Armed Services and Foreign Relations Committees of the Senate, continues unabated. Following the ousted General's testimony, mainly aimed at justifying his own position before the committees, General Marshall took the stand to defend the President's action. Both distinguished Generals, while observing the niceties and diplomacy of their respective positions have nevertheless made no arguments or records in justifying their respective sides of the argument. As was expected, the first wave of MacArthur enthusiasm, not only in the Congress but throughout the country, has wanted to some extent. President Truman, with his usual exhibition of confidence, has let it be known through the press and otherwise that he expects his side of the controversy to prevail. When one considers that both MacArthur and the President and his advisors may be at least partially right and that at stake may be the future destiny of this Republic, if not the whole civilized world, it is to be much regretted that the controversy has now become largely a political one. It would seem to Mr. John Q. Public and to the men who must do the fighting and dying that the President and General MacArthur and Marshall and Secretary Acheson could sit down in the quiet of seclusion and come to a common understanding in the interest of our common country. Certainly, this would be a major contribution to the unity of our people, so essential to ultimate victory.

If out of such a conference could come a definite agreement, we would not only achieve unity, but we would also have a definite foreign policy—something that General MacArthur and a lot of the rest of us have never felt that we have.

The Administration speaks of containing the war of aggression in Korea, but if our theory and analysis of the objectives and mechanics of Russia are correct, as we have repeatedly pointed out over the past five years, even a decisive victory in Korea would give no assurance whatever that the masters of the Kremlin would not provoke trouble in another part of the world. In fact, there are evidences now of Russia's long delayed intention of starting another war in Iran, as she already has one going in Indo-China.

What we fear most is that Russia doesn't want us out of Korea. On the contrary, that she wants to keep us fighting down there indefinitely, or as long as she can keep the Chinese pulling her chestnuts out of the fire regardless of the cost to them. For, in Korea she can use Chinese as a part of her objective to bleed us white.

ARMED FORCES DAY

The second annual observance of Armed Forces Day (May 19) is both a reminder and a challenge. It calls to mind, in this period when the country is largely in the grip of apathy and confusion, the unpleasant realities that face us, and, by so doing, it should spur each of us into an unselfish, patriotic effort to help prepare this nation to meet those realities.

Your Representative in Congress was invited to deliver the address at the celebration at Keesler Air Force Base, and we attempted to outline briefly some of the hard facts that confront us as a nation and to fix some goals at which we on the domestic front might well aim. Believing that they might be of interest in view of the current controversy over foreign policy, we are setting out below in abbreviated, excerpts from some of those thoughts.

RUSSIA'S OBJECTIVES

"It must be apparent now to all that world domination and enslavement of free peoples everywhere are the objectives of this little band of wilful men who control the great masses of the Soviet Republics. These objectives are pursued relentlessly upon a different basis—a system of divide and conquer.

"Russia doesn't want an all-out war any more than we want an all-out war. But the one thing that the master minds of the Kremlin do not want is peace. Communism thrives upon confusion, division, and chaos. Ever since V. E. Day Russia has followed a policy, through every forum that she could find, of preventing peace. Again, through infiltration and sabotage, division and overthrow of existing constitutional governments, she has annexed within her orbit behind the iron curtain a number of independent nations.

STRENGTH AND FORCE, THE ONLY LANGUAGE UNDERSTOOD BY RUSSIA

"In the summer of 1945, after two months spent in Europe on a Congressional fact-finding mission and after conferences with the then rulers of Europe and the Middle East, including Generalissimo Stalin himself, I reported to the President and the Congress in part as follows:

"We were convinced, possibly above everything else, that the policy of appeasement toward Russia, must cease. Stalin and his advisers understand but one language and that is force. "If this analysis is correct, then our course is obvious even though a hard one. We must make Stalin respect our power and strength even though he will not listen to reason. This is the only method of preventing further aggression and a possible world war.

"But in fighting this insidious enemy we must realize that one of the objectives they have in mind is to bleed us white. We must guard against extravagance and over-reaching ourselves lest our basic economy be destroyed. For the situation that confronts us have no assurance that if we could well last ten or twenty years without an all-out war. We are successful in a victorious solution of the Korean situation, Russia would not, through her puppets and other intrigue, foment another Korea in one of a half dozen other parts of the globe.

CONTROVERSY OVER KOREAN POLICY

"In my own humble judgment there is some merit to both sides of the (MacArthur) controversy. I can only hope and pray that out of it all will come some definite foreign policy that will prevent Russia from calling all the signals and thereby keeping us always on the defensive. A Chamberlain-like appeasement policy

STRONG DOMESTIC POLICY

"On the home front:

"First, the public and the Congress must see to it that there is no political bickering where the nation's defense is involved.

"Second, in this situation there must be as nearly as humanly possible an equality of sacrifice on the part of our people in the years ahead. There must be no business as usual policy. There must be no millionaires made out of the sweat and blood of our boys. There must be no crippling strikes in our industrial production. The Harry Bridges and the John L. Lewis must not be permitted to again sabotage the efforts of our armed forces.

"Third, as distasteful as controls of our economy across the board. Remembering our experience in the last two wars that one segment of our economy cannot be controlled without controlling both wages and the price of all commodities must be controlled if ruinous inflation is to be avoided.

"Fourth, we must have a united people behind a united policy."

WEEKLY NEWS LETTER

W. F. Bond, Commissioner State Department Public Welfare

It was very fitting that the second Sunday in May be observed as Mother's Day. The 3rd Sunday in June is Father's Day and should also be a day on which the fathers of the country should be remembered in some fitting manner. It will also be a good time for the Churches, Sunday schools, and other organizations and individuals to remember the Old Men's Home where 106 fine old fellows are spending their last days in peace and comfort. The observation of these days impresses upon sons and daughters their obligations to their parents as they travel the last mile. There seems to be a tendency today for some children to neglect their parents and in some instances leave them to their fate.

—Miss Mary Jane Green is home from St. Mary's Dominican Convent, New Orleans, for the summer. She will spend her vacation with her mother and uncle and aunt at the Green home.

Announces For Insurance Post

WALTER DELL DAVIS

Walter Dell Davis, former Chairman of the Mississippi Workmen's Compensation Commission, last week qualified with the Secretary of State, thereby making his formal entry in the race for State Insurance Commissioner.

Mr. Davis, a native of Montgomery County, Mississippi, attended the old Montgomery County Agricultural High School, and later graduated from University of Mississippi. After several years of teaching experience in Montgomery, Leake and Newton Counties, he began the practice of law at Winona, and served a term in the State Legislature. Mr. Davis served as Secretary of the State Senate under Lieutenant Governor Fielding L. Wright, and was named Chairman of the Mississippi Workmen's Compensation Commission by Governor Wright, which post he has continued to occupy until May 1 of this year, the effective date of his resignation.

Mr. Davis feels that his legal training, legislative background, and administrative experience as Chairman of the Workmen's Compensation Commission, especially fits him for the office he seeks. If elected, he pledges an impartial administration of the Insurance Department based upon the laws enacted by the State Legislature. He has no radical reforms in mind, believing that any proposed changes in the insurance laws should be the result of mature consideration. As Insurance Commissioner he will continue to serve the people of Mississippi without regard to special interests.

Mr. Davis married the former Celeste Kimbrough of Leflore County, and is the father of two sons, Kim and Walter, Jr. They now make their home in Jackson, Mississippi.

Food Preservation Is a Woman's Task, and Science Lends a Hand

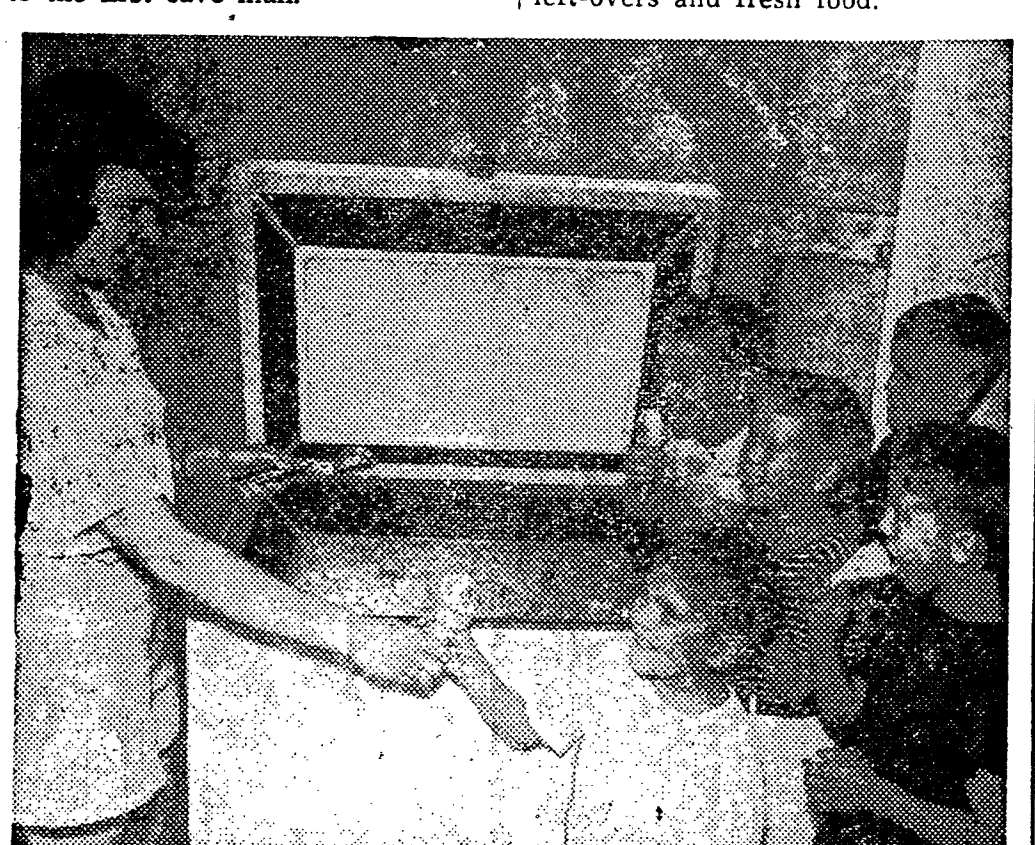

By IRA MILLER

Farm Electrification Bureau

The preservation of food on the farm usually is a woman's job. Fact of the matter is, she inherited the job long before there were any farms. If she wants to blame anybody for her present assignment, she can look to the first cave man.

various sizes, with different makes offering different advantages.

Many of the new electric refrigerators have separate frozen food storage compartments. Such super-cold compartments also increase the flexibility of the units in supplying increased freezing capacity for ice cubes and for the frozen storage of left-overs and fresh food.

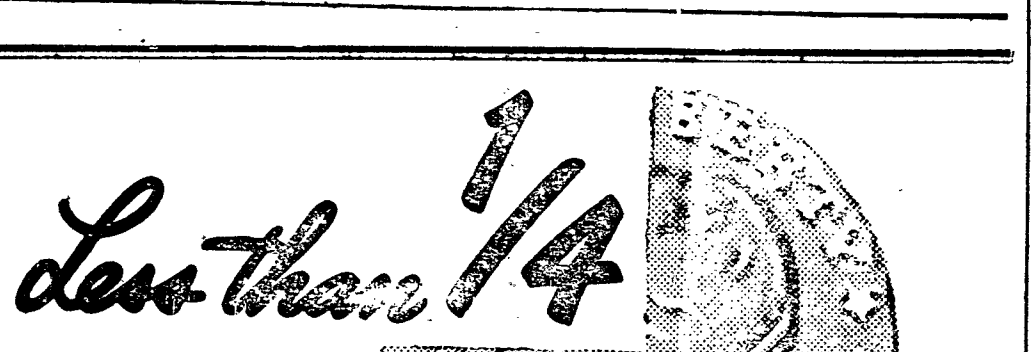

FREEZER—adds to fun on the farm on hot days.

Small wonder, therefore, that she has had long experience in the food preservation department. Over the years she tried many different methods from smoking and pickling meat to drying fruit and vegetables. In more recent times, farm women kept cans of milk and cream cool by lowering them into the well. Other food was kept in dark basements, storm, root or rock cellars—call them what you will. All added up to inconvenient and uncertain "refrigerators."

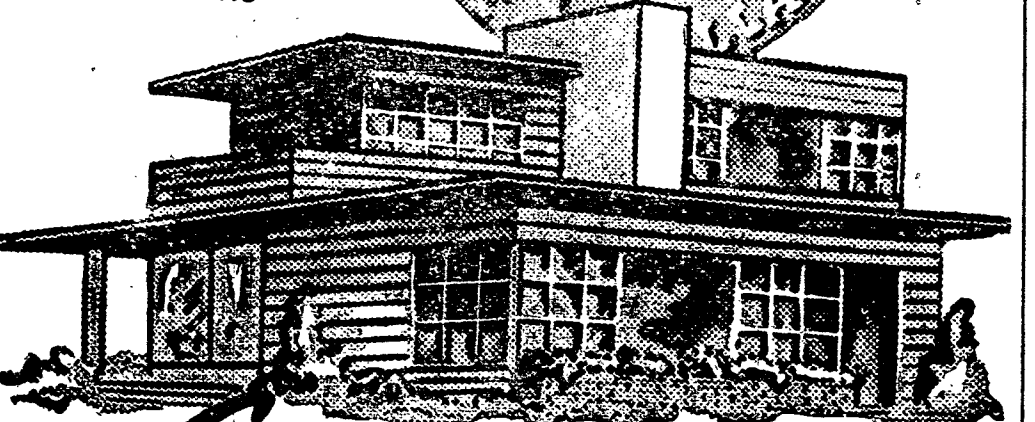

It was a great day, therefore, when electric power lines began reaching farm areas. For, among other things, they provided the juice needed to operate electric refrigerators and farm and home freezers. Hardly an electrified farm home today is without a modern refrigerator or a freezer. And many have both. They come in Freezers are of two types—chest and upright. Chest type freezers have lids in the top of the cabinet. The upright type resembles, outwardly at least, the household refrigerator. The kind you get should depend upon your needs and the space available.

Fruits and vegetables should be prepared for the freezer when they are just right for eating. The correct preparation of all foods is highly important. Your electrical dealer, power supplier or extension service can provide you with information on this subject. Be certain that all food packages are wrapped and sealed in moisture-vapor proof materials. Then get them into the freezer immediately. If this can't be done for some reason, store the food in the refrigerator—but get it into the freezer at the first opportunity.

a new language in the making

Credit for inventing the first alphabet goes to the ancient Egyptians. They first developed the idea of reducing the spoken language to a small number of separate sounds, each represented by a letter.

Today in Mississippi a great new industry is bringing forth a new language—the language of oil and gas. During the last few years words like wildcat well and dry hole have become almost as familiar to Mississippians as bull weevil and cotton.

But a new language is not all that the oil and gas industry has brought to Mississippi. It's brought thousands of jobs for men and women, millions of dollars in payrolls and taxes, and more tax revenue for state and county treasuries.

Last year, for example, over $5,700,000 was collected by the State Tax Commission from direct severance taxes on oil and gas. And since 1944 the oil and gas industry has paid over $27 million in this form of taxes alone—a concrete example of the industry's contribution to the economic progress of Mississippi.

Mississippi's favorable attitude toward industrial development has been an important factor in the rapid development of its oil and gas industry. The cooperation of government and business, fair and reasonable taxes, and the harmony that exists between management and labor have all contributed to the expansion of this new and important industry.

In this friendly atmosphere the oil and gas industry will continue to grow and develop, thereby creating more jobs, more payrolls and more revenue for the state and county treasuries.

This is important to you as a citizen because what helps the sound development of our oil and gas resources helps Mississippi and all Mississippians.
